SESSION DESCRIPTIONS

Tuesday, May 7th

7:00 - 8:00 AM    Breakfast and Registration    West Promenade
8:00 - 8:30 AM    Opening Remarks    Music Hall
8:30 AM - 12:30 PM  Goal Mama    Various

Getting Started with Goal Mama

Pat Bueno, BSN, RN, CCM
Renee Damron, BSN, RN
Sonja Flores BSN, RN
Stephanie Humbert, MBA, RN
Adrian McKinney, RNC-LRN, BSN
Angela Montez, RN, BSN
Elly Yost RN, BSN, MSN, PNP, MBH/MHA

This session will provide an overview review of the value of client goal setting and how the use of the new Goal Mama application can assist the nurse and client in this process. The application and its features will be demonstrated, and learners will receive guidance on how to introduce the application with their clients. Learners will demonstrate familiarity with the nurse dashboard features and prepare a plan for integrating Goal Mama into their nursing practice.

12:30 - 1:45 PM    Lunch Keynote    Music Hall

Preventative Health Services for Women in Texas

Evelyn Delgado, BS

This session will address how access to preventive healthcare for all women, including contraceptives, leads to better birth spacing, greater access to prenatal care, and healthier moms and babies. Women of color must be considered as healthcare and support systems are designed and delivered in all communities. The Texas Legislature can impact access to services and ensure women have access to continuous coverage.

1:45 - 2:00 PM    Break
2:00 - 3:30 PM   Concurring Session 1   East Parlor

Sexually Transmitted Infections
Bani Ratan, MD

This session will describe guidelines for sexually transmitted infection screening and symptoms and management of common STI's. Participants will learn methods for prevention of common STIs and discuss the evaluation, diagnostic criteria, and management of vaginitis.

2:00 - 3:30 PM   Concurring Session 2   West Parlor

Hypertension in Pregnancy
Jacquelyn Svoboda MSN, RN, WHNP-C (Doctoral student @ University of Alabama)

The session will include current recommendations for identifying, managing hypertensive disorders in pregnancy. Topics will include chronic hypertension, chronic hypertension with superimposed pre-eclampsia, gestational hypertension, pre-eclampsia without severe features, pre-eclampsia with severe features, Eclampsia and HELLP Syndrome. Current revised practice bulletins from ACOG (2019) will be incorporated.

2:00 - 3:30 PM   Concurring Session 3   Veranda

Sepsis in Pregnancy: Effects on the Postpartum Mom and Family
Tracy McManaman-Bridges, MSN RNC-OB, C-EFM

This session will review the signs and symptoms of sepsis, the causes that lead to sepsis and the influences of sepsis on the postpartum woman and her family.

2:00 - 3:30 PM   Concurring Session 4   Terrace

Caring for the mom as care giver through evidence-based practice principles
Rebecca Helmeich, PhD, MSN, RN, APN, Women’s Health-BC

This session will examine the evidence of the association of stress, anxiety and depression with the physiologic indicators of blood pressure and vagal response in both obese and non-obese women as well as the impact of dietary and/or physical activity interventions on Perinatal outcomes for pregnant women who are normal weight, overweight, or obese compared to control groups receiving routine standard prenatal care. Learners will also identify techniques that can easily be taught and practiced to help reduce the impact of stress, anxiety and depression in vulnerable women; examine different dietary techniques and how to assist the client to select the dietary plan that “Best Fits” the family lifestyle; and explore various modes of physical activity habits that the woman agrees to practice.

3:30-3:45     Break
Understanding Gestational Diabetes-Management and Prevention

Bushra Manakatt, DNP, RN, MSN, FNP-C

This session will review of the different types of diabetes, with the highlight on gestational diabetes. Through discussion and case studies, the learner will have a better understanding of risk factors, prevalence, and maternal and fetal complications associated with gestational diabetes. Screening for and of gestational diabetes will be discussed, including pharmacological, lifestyle modification, medical nutrition therapy, glucose monitoring and exercise, postpartum follow up, and strategies to prevent diabetes.

Nurses Partnering with New Mothers to Prevent Postpartum Smoking Relapse

Sandra Priest, DNP, RN, NNP-BC & Sharron Forest, DNP, RN, NNP-BC

This session will address the scope of maternal smoking in Texas and nationally, the contributing factors that influence a woman’s decision to continue/discontinue smoking, implications and complications related to maternal smoking, and the nurse’s role in assisting a mother to quit smoking. Tools available to support the nurse during these discussions and the mother in her decision to quit will be included in this session.

Finding Balance in the Job I Love

Kim Weber-Yorga, RN, MSN

We spend a lot of time talking about how to be of service to those most in need. We must also talk about being of service to ourselves. Explore strategies to care for yourself so you can continue to enjoy and thrive at the job you love!

Contraception: Preparing for the future.

Stacey Coombes MD, FACOG

This session will provide a review the importance of contraception in preventing unplanned or unwanted pregnancies and timing of counseling and initiation, including a review contraceptive options, contraindications, risks, benefits, and barriers to accessing reliable contraception.

Spa Galvez

Sign up for some self-care at the Spa Galvez! A 25-minute Swedish Massage is $75. The spa applies an 18% service charge upon checkout, which is gratuity for the service providers and there will also be a 20% discount applied the Nurse-Family Partnership Conference attendees. 2:45 - 3:30 PM  NSO Closing Remarks    Music Hall

Evaluation, and CNE Certificates
Dr. Rebecca Birch-Tsusaki, PhD, WHNP-BC, RN, IBCLC

Dr. Tsusaki is an assistant professor of clinical nursing at the UTHealth Cizik School of Nursing. Her experience as a nurse includes work in the NICU, emergency department, adult and pediatric post-anesthesia care unit, endoscopy, women’s health/OB and lactation. She is currently the Clinical Liaison for nurse practitioner placement, working with clinical partners to forge relationships and interprofessional education. She also teaches courses in the graduate nursing and doctoral NP programs. Her PhD dissertation research involved using surface electromyography to study oral muscle use and sucking patterns in breastfeeding late preterm infants. She earned her master’s degree in Women’s Health Education with an emphasis on curriculum design, item writing and analysis. Her master’s thesis was about late-preterm infant feeding choices and cumulative rehospitalization during the neonatal period. She completed a women’s health nurse practitioner post-masters degree and is a board-certified women’s health nurse practitioner (WHNP-BC) and is currently part of a faculty practice at the Women’s Home in the Montrose District. Dr. Tsusaki is an international board certified lactation consultant (IBCLC) with a passion for helping new moms and breastfeeding infants and completed a post-doctoral health education fellowship in June of 2017.

Dr. Fred Buckwold, MD, FACP

Prior to retiring in August 2018, Dr. Fred Buckwold was chief medical officer for Community Health Choice, Inc., a community owned non-profit managed care organization that provides programs focused on low-income families, including Medicaid, CHIP and the subsidized individual Health Insurance Marketplace. He also served on the Board of Directors of the Texas Health Services Authority since its inception in 2007 having been appointed and reappointed by Governors Perry and Abbott. This legislatively mandated body was created to promote and coordinate the electronic exchange of healthcare information in Texas. In addition, he serves on boards of several non-profit community organizations. Dr. Buckwold has more than 22 years of administrative experience in the managed care industry. Prior to joining Community, he worked for divisions of Anthem, United Health Group, Cigna and FHP, with experience in commercial, Medicare and Medicaid programs. In addition, he spent 18 years practicing as an Infectious Disease physician before his health plan administrative career.

Ms. Pat Bueno, RN, CCM

Patricia "Pat" Bueno is a Nurse Supervisor at The Children’s Shelter in San Antonio, Texas. She has been a nurse for five years with experience in telemetry, dialysis, and case management. Prior to nursing, Pat spent 12 years in Home Health Management. She obtained her Certification in Case Management (CCM) in April 2018. She is passionate about serving the Nurse-Family Partnership population because she was a low-income teen mom with a Spanish speaking single mom.

Ms. Paula Carrasco, MPA

Paula Carrasco is the Public Health Educator for the Houston Health Department's Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program (CLPPP). She holds a Master of Public Administration with a Certification in Nonprofit Management from Villanova University. With this and her background in Healthcare and Biological Sciences along with her passion for children, she effectively brings awareness to communities about the effects of lead poisoning in children. She actively meets with external stakeholders and attends community events providing education for best efforts in reducing the prevalence of childhood lead poisoning and increase screening rate. Recently, she was interviewed by the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce President, Dr. Laura Murillo on Univision Spanish Radio and offered an Alumni Spot Light by Villanova about the work she does for the community. In her spare time, she enjoys spending time with her husband of 24 years, exploring international foods, spontaneous Texas road trips, cooking, baking cakes, and working with charities.
Ms. Anne-Marie Combs, BSN, MSN
Anne-Marie Combs is a Clinical Leader, Patient Safety Officer, and Nurse Care Manager. She is a transformational nurse leader with more than 25 years practical experience in hospital-based birth, recovery and postpartum care for low-risk and at-risk families and implemented evidence-based care guidelines and perinatal safety bundles. She is a earned her Master of Science in Nursing with a specialization in Care Coordination. Ms. Comb is active in the local and national chapters of Texas Nurses Association and AWHONN and is also a member of Sigma Tau Theta. Most recently she has worked as a manager of clinical case management in adult psychiatric medicine and as a home health field case manager. She is proficient in community outreach and transitional care for families in need of post-birth resources and support.

Ms. Stacey Coombes, MD, FACOG
Dr. Coombes is originally from Illinois and graduated from The University of Illinois College of Medicine. She then did a four-year residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Mercy Hospital in St. Louis, Missouri. After completing residency, she practiced in St. Louis for two years before moving to Houston to join her husband who works in the oil and gas industry. Dr. Coombes is board certified in Obstetrics and Gynecology and has been working at The Texas Children's Health Plan Center for Children and Women in Houston since 2016. She enjoys treating women of all ages from adolescence through their reproductive years and into menopause. Dr. Coombes has two college-aged daughters, two high school-aged step-daughters, and a beloved dog - Molly. In her free time, she enjoys exercising and taking advantage of the Houston food scene!

Ms. Evelyn Delgado, BS
Evelyn Delgado is President at Healthy Futures of Texas. Healthy Futures’ mission is to support development of strong families and positively impact the future of our community by reducing teen and unplanned pregnancy in San Antonio and Texas. She also serves as Chair of the Texas Women’s Healthcare Coalition, an initiative of Healthy Futures, which advocates for access to preventive healthcare, including contraception, for all Texas women. Evelyn is passionate about addressing the health needs of our community’s teens, young adults and families. Evelyn has extensive experience as a senior-level executive leader in public health at the Texas Department of State Health Services, including overseeing women’s and children’s health programs. Using the principles of public health prevention, community health programs under her leadership served over one million Texans and delivered $950 million in public health services annually. Throughout her career, Evelyn served on numerous state and national committees including the Power to Decide State Local Action Advisory Group, Texas Collaborative for Healthy Mothers and Babies, Texas Medical Association Committee on Reproductive, Women’s and Perinatal Health, Council on Children and Families, the Task Force for Children with Special Needs, and was appointed to the National Advisory Council on Maternal, Infant and Fetal Nutrition by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Ms. Monica Flores, BSN, RN
Monica Flores graduated from Texas Women’s University, with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing in 2004. She has been a Registered Nurse for 14 years. The first three years of her career was working with adults. Monica transitioned into the Neonatal Intensive Care, where she remained for the last 11 years.
